REDEEMER EVANGELICAL COVENANT CHURCH

The Master's Touch

From the Pastor's Desk

"If we are 'out of our mind', as some say – it is for God"
- 2 Corinthians 5:13

Is your life messy? I am not asking if things around your house are physically messy, although I'm sure some of us have to do some post-Christmas cleaning. No, I am asking if your life is messy in all areas. Are things not perfectly ordered in your spiritual life, or in your mental state, or in your life goals? If so, you are not alone. All of us are messy. The good news is the Bible will show us that God is present in the mess.

The theme at Redeemer for 2015 will be "God Bless This Mess." I decided on the theme early this fall when I heard a speaker discuss multi-ethnic churches. One of the things he said was if you are in a multi-ethnic church, just plan ahead to offend and to be offended by others. He said that multi-ethnic ministry is messy. That resounded with me and I decided to make it our 2015 theme. I hope the theme will give us the courage to stick it out in relationships that are not easy, to try (and possibly fail) at new adventures, and to see that God can still use brokenness. Most importantly, I hope that people begin to understand there is no such thing as a perfect church. There is however, a FORGIVING church. And the more we get used to "messes" in our lives, the more forgiving we will be.

I'll go a step further. Not only is God in the mess, I think sometimes God CAUSES the mess. The reason isn't that He wants to hurt or disappoint us but rather because it can be the mess that transforms us. So to kick off 2015, I challenge to look at your own life. No doubt it's not perfect. But do you have the courage to pray "God Bless this Mess?"

Renewing Our Acquaintance with Covenant Missionaries

The World Covenant Mission sponsors a number of foreign missionaries and Redeemer Church participates in their support. From time to time we feel it is useful to feature an individual or couple who benefit from our support.

One such couple is Francisco and Stephanie Ramos who serve in Paris and their focus is the artistic community in their locale. They practice fellowship evangelism, trusting that the interest shown will move people of the artistic community to consider the claims of Christ. They have been involved in this ministry for 18 years.

Currently, they solicit prayer support regarding establishment of relationships being developed and opportunities to go deeper in sharing their faith. They feel the need of specific guidance, wisdom, discernment and strength regarding their work.

We would like to feature them sometime in late January and hope to arrange a Skype call during the worship service so that we can have direct contact with these servants of God.

To learn more, see their latest newsletter on the missions bulletin board in the hallway by Fellowship Hall.

Contact our missions committee chair, Joe Wakeman, for more information.
