REDEEMER EVANGELICAL COVENANT CHURCH

The Master's Touch

From the Pastor's Desk

When He finished, one of His disciples said to Him, "Lord, teach us to pray, just as John taught his disciples." Luke 11:1

"Our Father, who art in heaven. . . ." The familiar words of the Lord's Prayer resonate with most people. Even non-church goers instinctively know to bow their heads and close their eyes when the preacher or priest begins uttering the words "Our Father." Whether it is a ritual prayer to be repeated before taking the field in the big game, a repetitive spell from the climactic scene of that horror movie, or simply words of comfort for a numb family at an unexpected funeral, most of us are familiar with the Lord's Prayer.

Sometimes familiarity can be a great thing. Routines and rituals are the trellis which can help us flourish during life's highs and lows. But sometimes we must be careful with being too familiar with things. I wonder if maybe the Lord's Prayer is one of those things. It is not bad if we have it memorized. Quite frankly, I believe Jesus wanted us to have it memorized. But it is another thing to use it as a formula rather than let it form our faith.

Each year I pick a year-long church theme. For 2019, I have decided on the theme

"The Prayer." The Lord's Prayer will be our church's focus for this year. Yes, we will repeat it in worship and yes, many of you will have it memorized by the end of the year (if you do not already!) But my goal behind the theme goes deeper: What if Redeemer lived the Lord's Prayer this year? What if you lived the Lord's Prayer in 2019?

My hope for Redeemer this year is that the Lord's Prayer becomes an "unfamiliar familiar" prayer for us. Put another way, I hope the Lord's Prayer is no longer a formula but formation for us: Our debts and their forgiveness become real; Our temptations named and avoided; Our "Daddy" we talk with is also a Holy God. The prayer changes us. Throughout 2019, whenever the pastor or priest begins saying "Our Father" we know to bow our heads and close our eyes, but we know it goes much deeper than that.
